NASA lands at Pelion Middle

PELION, S.C. — Pelion Middle School welcomes NASA representatives to share their scientific knowledge and expertise with students and teachers beginning Nov. 10.

Eighth-grade students will learn from air traffic controller simulations, while all math and science teachers will participate in professional development activities.

Pelion Middle parents can explore all the NASA program has to offer at 6:30 p.m., Nov. 12 at the Family Science and Math Night. NASA representatives will lead families in robotic demonstrations, scientific experiments and flight simulations.
